ITEMS FROM THE GREENVILLE ENTERPRISE

Issue of January 17, 1872

OBITUARY: Jane Caroline Moore, daughter of Hewlet and Mary Sullivan, and wife of Samuel Moore, deceased. Born the 21st of September 1798, and died the 17th day of November 1871, in her 74 year, at Lickville, Greenville County, South Carolina.

She joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in 1845, and lived a consistent member of the same until death.

In all the relation of life she endeavored to fill her sphere as best she could. As a Christian, humble and retiring, feeling herself destitute of personal righteousness, but trusting in the favor and grace of God through the blood of Christ for a life of happiness beyond this vale of tears. As a wife, every thoughtful of the comfort and happiness of her husband. As a parent, kind and affectionate; and now how vividly can her children, (one of whom is a minister of the gospel,) call to remembrance her many kind administrations to them in their early training and subsequent life. As a mistress of her household, lenient and forgiving. As a neighbor, social and obliging, and ever ready to stretch out her hand to the poor, and reach forth her hands to the needy. She was a woman of unbounded hospitality, and possessed all those ennobling qualities of mind and heart which dignify and elevate woman in all spheres of life. Her house was ever open to the weary itinerant, and many members of the South Carolina Conference have been welcomed and cared for in her hospitable abode. Her social qualities shed a genial influence around all who came within the circle of her association. For several months before her death, her sufferings were intense, all of which she bore with patience and Christian fortitude. "For I reckon that the sufferings of this present time are not worthy to be compared with the glory which shall be revealed in us." Her relatives and friends who have been rendered desolate by this sad bereavement, are comforted by the hope of a glad reunion in Heaven.

DEATH OF AN OLD LANDMARK

Mr. Joseph Haddon, familiarly known by his scores of friends as "Joe", died Tuesday of this week at the advanced age of 94 years. Mr. Haddon was an Englishman, and came to the States from the mother country more than 60 years ago with the first Stevenson locomotive engine ever brought to this country; the engine to be run on the old South Carolina Railroad, and Mr. Haddon came along to hold the throttle.

The greater portion of his life was spent in this work; principally in South Carolina on the S. C. Road and the C. and G. Road.

The deceased was well known in this community, and was highly esteemed for his many good qualities. He died at the home of his son-in-law, Mr. Tettards, four miles from this city.

INTERESTING REMINISCENCES OF GREENWOOD.

Messrs. J. R. Blake, jr. & R. P. Blake have bought what is known as the old Sikes property, on McNeill street. It is the intention of the purchasers to have Major Lee survey the land and lay it off in building lots at once. The tract contains twelve acres of land, most desirable for residences. There are some historical associations, tinged with romance, connected with this property, that makes it doubly valuable to the two enterprising young men who purchased it. It was on this piece of land that their great grand father, John Blake, first settled when he came to this country from Ireland in 1795. There is an interesting anecdote, and still more interesting because it is true, which the descendants of this venerable man delight to tell of him. He was severely afflicted with dyspepsia, and it was on this spot of earth that he determined to have recourse to prayer and fasting as a remedy for his ills. Early one morning he announced his intention to his wife, and after securing her approval secreted himself near the old homestead and remained in prayer all day long. At eveningtide he returned and reported himself ready for supper which he ate with a relish, and from that day till his death he knew no more suffering from dyspepsia. On the next morning he carved on the old rock chimney the word "Ebenezer". The stone bearing the inscription is now in the possession of Prof. J. R. Blake, of this city. On the old chimney now standing are the initials of the Messrs. Blakes father, A. M. B., carved January 9, 1827, exactly sixty-nine years ago this morning. The purchasers propose to improve and beautify the grounds, but they are not for sale at any price. They will preserve the place as a memento of worthy ancestors, of whom they are just proud. The place will be called Blakeville.

At the beginning of the new year Greenwood people have done some of the shifting about usual at this time of the year. Mr. G. A. Byrd has moved into the handsome residence formerly owned and occupied by Rev. J. L. Vass. Mr. Byrd some time ago purchased this property.

Mr. Vass has moved to the Orphanage, and, in addition to the duties he already performed, will take upon himself the work done by Maj. S. P. Brooks. Mr. Brooks will return to his farm near (illegible).
